Gown Release

Your gown will be handled with the utmost care during the cleaning and preservation process. Please note that the following conditions may exist: 1. Appliques/ beads and decorative items may come off. 2. Some stains may not be removed completely without causing damage to the fabric. 3. Some lace, embroidery, beads, and sequins may be unstable in their manufacturing and/or dyeing; therefore they may discolor, lose color, or become damaged. 4. Beads, sequins, and glue may change color, or yellow over time even though proper cleaning and preservation of the gown has taken place. The customer acknowledges that the pre-existing conditions stated above may affect the preservation of their article and said article will only be cleaned at the complete risk of the customer. All gowns hold a declared value of $2,000. The consumer or owner should declare the value in case of loss or damage does not exceed, and is limited to $2,000, unless a greater value is fore mentioned. Additional declared value may be purchased. Your gown will be shipped within 4-14 weeks after receipt of gown.

Wedding Gown Preservation Co. cleans gowns per the manufacturer's instructions on the care label. Accessories that have been added or altered by anyone other than the original manufacturer; including but not limited to the sash, belt, beads or sequins, voids any guarantee and/or responsibility from Wedding Gown Preservation Company. Wedding Gown Preservation Co. is not responsible for any gown or accessory that does not have a manufacturer's care label and fiber content.

NOTE: Wedding Gown Preservation Company must be notified of any shipping damages/returns within 5 days of receipt of the gown. Gowns that are more than 20 years old will need restoration at an additional charge.

Additional fees may apply for the following: Silk Bouquets: $50 Large Gown: $100 Heavy Gown: $100 Extremely Soiled Gown: $100
Alaska & Hawaii: $100 Additional Shipping Fees
